TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP

May 2, 2011

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP, INC. RECYCLE AT WORK CERTIFIED

Portland, OR –TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP, INC. (TCG) has been certified for a second consecutive year as a Recycle at Work facility. This certification is awarded to businesses that have improved recycling practices and reducing the quantity of waste produced by implementing recycling steps set forth by the City of Portland, OR.

In order to receive the Recycle at Work certification all paper, bottles and cans must be recycled at the workplace. Every TCG facility has recycling bins in easy-to-find locations for recycling paper, bottles and cans. Recycling is encouraged both at work and at home by all employees and their families.

About TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP

Founded in 1996 TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP specializes in asset disposition and recycling of waste stream commodities generated through the manufacturing of electronics and electronic components. TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP recycles, reuses and/or remarkets virtually 100% of its intake. TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP holds a multi-site certification to ISO 14001:2004 standards, adheres to all levels of environmental regulations, and respects design security without sacrificing returns. TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP serves an international customer base through its strategically located facilities throughout North America, Mexico, United Kingdom, Israel and India.
