

December 7, 2010

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO RECEIVES AWARD

Lecanto, FL – TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO in Guadalajara has received the Clean Industry Certification from PROFEPA, the Federal Environmental Protection agency of the Government of Mexico.

TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO successfully passed PROFEPA's stringent audit and received this certification for environmental quality at their facility in Guadalajara, Mexico. Through a commitment to continuous improvement, TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO is poised to become one of the top recycling companies in North America.

About TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP de MEXICO

Founded in 2001 TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO in Guadalajara specializes in asset disposition and recycling of waste stream commodities generated through the manufacturing of electronics and electronic components. TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO recycles, reuses and/or remarkets virtually 100% of its intake. TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO is certified to ISO 14001:2004 standards, adheres to all levels of environmental regulations, and respects design security without sacrificing returns. TECHNOLOGY CONSERVATION GROUP DE MEXICO serves Mexico with facilities in Guadalajara and Monterrey.

For additional information, please contact us at www.tcgreycling.com.mx or call 011 52 33 3914 4718.

Technology Conservation Group De Mexico PR Contact:

Debra Gardner

Technology Conservation Group, Inc.

Tel: (352) 527-2534

debbie.gardner@tcgreycling.com